

Great Lakes Inter - Tribal Epidemiology Center in Lac du Flambeau, WI

The EpiCenter is an Epidemiology Cooperative Agreement Project working through Great Lakes Inter-Tribal Council (located in Lac du Flambeau, WI) in partnership with Federally Recognized American Indian Tribes in the Bemidji Area. Ojibwe, Ottawa, Menominee, Mohican, and Potawatomi Tribes are served by this project.

The EpiCenter provides epidemiological services to Tribes in the area. The project assists Tribes in the collection, interpretation, and analysis of health information. The goal is to assist Tribes with understanding and using health data to more effectively administer their health programs and plan for healthier communities.
